Bank of Fletcher Savings and Trust Co., in Indianapolis

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11—Two youthful bandits held up a branch bank of the Fletcher Savings and Trust company at Sixteenth and Illinois streets today and escaped with $4,300 in cash after a running gun battle with Hiram Fisher, motorcycle policeman.

After robbing the bank, the bandits sped eastward in Sixteenth street to Broadway, where they were met by Fisher. One of the bandits drew a revolver and Fisher opened fire.

The bandits' auto lurched around the corner northward into Broadway, both the bandits' revolver and the policeman's gun spitting bullets. Guiding his motorcycle with one hand and firing with the other, Fisher followed the car.

During the chase bullets broke the windshield of the bandits' car and Fisher believed one of the men was wounded.

After a chase of several blocks, Fisher had emptied his gun and stopped to reload. The bandit car sped on and disappeared.

C. F. Mitchell, cashier, was sitting at his desk in the front of the bank with a revolver lying on the desk when the bandits entered.

Calmly puffing at a cigar, the leader flourished a revolver and drove Mitchell and four employees of the bank into a rear room and forced them to lie on the floor while his confederate slipped behind the cashier's cage and took the money.

The two men ran out the front door and drove away in their auto while Mitchell and the bank employees were still in the back room.

Mitchell said the two bandits were less than 21 years of age.

"I thought they were joking," he said, "and didn't pay any attention to their first order to get into the back room."

"I changed my mind when the fellow started getting nervous with his trigger finger."

The robbery occurred half an hour after the bank had opened for business.

A general alarm was sent out and squads of police rushed to the district to trail the bandit car.

Bank robberies in Indiana have averaged nearly one a day for the past week. Up to today the total loot included more than $50,000.

GUARDSMEN TO PROTECT BANKS

Will be Available Until Bankers Organize "Sharpshooters"

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11—Lieut. Col. Robert Axtelle, member of the administrative staff of the Indiana National Guard, has been placed in direct charge of troops who will be used to protect banks against the activities of bandit gangs, it was learned today at the state house.

Adj. General Kershner closely guarded the plan for cooperation between the guards and the Indiana banker's association in curbing the wave of banditry. It was understood, however, that detachments of guardsmen will be assigned to protect banks until the bankers association has completed organization of squads of "sharpshooters" in each county to wage open warfare on the bandits.

COUNCIL PASSES BOND RESOLUTION

Acts Favorably on School Board's Declaration to Issue Bonds for
New School Building

ATHLETIC BODY TO HELP

Articles of Incorporation to be Filed
At Once so That Work May Get
Started

The city council today approved the resolution adopted by the Rushville school trustees, declaring it to be the intention of the school city to issue $40,000 in bonds to erect a school building.

Articles of incorporation were to be drawn up today for the Rushville Public School Athletic association, a non-profit organization composed of Rushville citizens who pledged loans without interest to be used in the erection of a gymnasium.

The articles of incorporation will be filed at once and as soon as the necessary legal steps have been taken, the bonds will be issued and sold and the contract let for the building, so that it may be finished, if possible, by the time the basketball season opens next November.

The money derived by the sale of the bonds will be combined with that received from the non-interest bearing loans to erect the building which will not be altogether a gymnasium for basketball purposes. Rooms will be provided under the gymnasium seats for vocational training and the gymnasium will provide the space necessary to put the public school physical education program on a larger basis, so that it will be available for all school children.

The space and equipment for physical education is now so limited that gymnasium work is restricted largely to boys and girls who are members of athletic teams. It is pointed out that if the new gymnasium is provided, the Graham Annex gymnasium may be used all through the school year for physical education.

BANK CASES SENT TO HENRY COUNTY

Suits Brought by Cora and Lot Holman and John M. Ryon Will Be Tried at Newcastle

JUDGMENTS ENTERED

Finding for Peoples Loan and Trust
Co., and Bank of Carthage on
Notes

Two important cases filed several months ago in the circuit court involving damage suits against the Peoples National Bank, have been venued to Henry county for trial, following the granting of the petition of the defendants.

The cases were filed by Cora and Lot Holman against the bank, demanding $25,000 damages for the alleged loss of money invested upon recommendation of Earl H. Payne, former bank officer, and by James M. Ryon against the same bank and upon the same allegations, in which he is seeking $10,000 judgment.

The cases have been pending here for several months but were never called for trial, although several issues had been presented in the preliminary steps to the trial. Rufus Hinshaw is judge of the Henry circuit court, and will have future jurisdiction in the cases.

John D. Megee, local attorney, has been appointed by Judge Sparks to act as special judge in the divorce suit pending trial of Carrie Flechart against Fred Flechart, following a motion by the plaintiff requesting a change of judge.

A court judgment was entered today in the case of the Peoples Loan and Trust company against Melvin D. Seeley. The judgment renders $1,971 on a note in favor of the Bank of Carthage against Seeley. On the second judgment the Peoples Loan and Trust Company is given $2,117.33 judgment against Seeley and others.

In the case of Edgar Stiers, administrator of the estate of John O. Williams, against Sylvester McKibben and others, judgment on a note has been entered for $198.49 and costs.

Judge Sparks also has heard the evidence in the case of Albert L. Bundy against Lena Bell Ball, administratrix of the estate of William Bundy, the action being to construe the meaning of certain items in a will. The court has the evidence under consideration.

BOYS AND PARENTS URGED TO BE PRESENT

All Others Interested in Camp
Crosley Invited to Public Meeting
Friday Night

DIRECTOR WILL BE HERE

All boys over ten years of age, together with their parents and any other persons interested, are invited to the Graham Annex auditorium Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Herbert A. Pettijohn, boys' work secretary of the Muncie Y. M. C. A., will show motion pictures of activities at Camp Crosley on Lake Tippecanoe, and tell something about the camp and its work.

Mr. Pettijohn is director of the camp and came here at the invitation of local organizations interested in boys' work, to give the boys of Rushville and vicinity an opportunity to attend the camp.

A group of boys from here will be sponsored by local organizations and arrangements will be made to send them to Camp Crosley this summer, probably during July.

The camp, which is in its eleventh season, was donated by the late Edmund Burke Ball of Muncie in memory of his son, for whom it was named, and is amply endowed, so that boys are given splendid facilities at a minimum cost. It is a typical Y. M. C. A. camp with competent supervisors who guard their health and protect from accidents.

WARMER WEATHER IS IN SIGHT

No Relief From Drought is Predicted, However

The temperature today remained chilly for mid-June weather, but will rise tonight and Friday, according to the prediction of the Indiana weather man.

No relief is in sight from the general drought, which is becoming steadily more pronounced. Oats and wheat are said to be worst affected by the lack of rainfall.

A heat wave was reported in dispatches to have settled over the southwest and parts of the middle-west. Refreshing showers fell in Montana, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the northern tips of Iowa and Illinois.

Death was caused from a three years' illness with leakage of the heart, and following a rapid decline since Monday. The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Main Street Christian church, in charge of the Rev. B. F. Cato of this city and the Rev. L. E. FIRE PLUG IS BROKEN BY AUTO

Police Will Serve Notice on Occupants They Are Responsible

The police today were preparing to serve notice on an automobile owner at Shelbyville, for breaking off a fire hydrant Wednesday evening about seven o'clock at First and Pearl streets, and failing to stop after the accident.

The car was driven and occupied by women, according to witnesses, and the license number of the machine was obtained, corresponding to the series of numbers issued in Shelby county. The car was described as being practically new, and the woman driver is said to have lost control, going over the curb, and striking the fire plug, causing an excessive flow of water. It was necessary to shut off the water at the plant while the damage was being repaired. The damage was estimated at more than $100. After the accident, the car is said to have left the scene as a crowd gathered.

TO CHECK UP ON COMMON BARBERRY

W. E. Leer, Leader of Eradication
Work in Indiana, Will Hunt for
Source of Black Stem Rust

BARBERRY FARMER'S ENEMY

Experience in This County Teaches
That It Should be Stamped Out—
Losses in Years Past

Farm leaders in different parts of Rush county have been receiving during the past few days information from W. E. Leer, state leader of barberry eradication in Indiana, stating that a check will soon be made in Rush county in regard to the common barberry, which spreads black stem rust.

Two grain rusts are common—black stem rust and leaf rust, both are red in the summer stage. The black stem rust is effectively controlled by barberry eradication. The leaf rust has no relation to barberry.

The red rust stage of the black stem rust has appeared in certain sections of the state already. The black stage which is most conspicuous will soon follow the red stage, and will likely be quite noticeable at harvest time, if stem rust is present it is pointed out.

There seems to be considerable leaf rust this year, according to reports received by the county agent Herschel Van Matre. The stem rust is found mostly on stems and the leaf rust on leaves. When in doubt, farmers are advised to take a knife and place some of the red spores in a drop of water and when viewed under the microscope the stem rust spores are oblong in shape while the leaf rust spores are nearly round.

Mr. Leer is very anxious to locate the black stem rust if there is any

Helen Wissing Presents Can
of Pears to Mrs. Coolidge

Miss Helen Wissing of Manilla, state canning queen, who was crowned the first of this year at Lafayette as the result of winning the sweepstakes for canning, was to present a can of her best pears to Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the president, at the White House in Washington today.

She is one of the Indiana boys and girls who were taken to Washington as a prize for superiority in boys' and girls' club work.

Frank Lux of Shelby county, Indiana boys' corn king, also was to present one of his prize ears of corn to the president.

There are 246 Rush county boys and girls in club work this year and the question arises whether any of them will be in Washington this time next year.

All of the club leaders are stressing the importance of making an exhibit at the state fair, which leads up to the state show the first of next year.

MURDER CLIMAX TO A WELL LAID PLOT

State's Attorney Charges Shepherd
Planned for Many Years to Slay
His Ward

TO INHERIT HIS FORTUNE

Opening Statement Made in "Germ Murder" Trial—Judge Refuses
to Restrict Crowe

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., June 11—William D. Shepherd murdered Billy McClintock, millionaire foster son as a climax to a long standing plot to obtain the McClintock fortune, State's attorney Robert E. Crowe told the jury in his opening statement today.

Crowe went over Shepherd's entire history and seeking to show the jury that Shepherd had lived in anticipation of inheriting the one million dollar estate. Crowe then told of Mrs. McClintock's death. He made no charge of murder against Shepherd for this death, but told the jury Shepherd was "dancing with glee" when he learned Mrs. McClintock was dead and he was to be one of Billy's guardians.

The plan of action, Crowe declared, consisted of raising Billy to the threshold of manhood and getting him to make a will. Then Crowe charged Shepherd committed the murder.

He could not murder Billy before he was twenty-one years old because he knew that in such a case the money would go to Billy's relatives, Crowe declared.

"This was to be no cheap murder," he said. "This was to be a clever crime of perfect execution, so that Shepherd would escape detection. So he went to Fauman and learned how to get some typhoid fever germs and feed them to Billy so that he would die."

Crowe made no request of the death penalty, saving that for his closing argument.

When he had finished William Stewart, Shepherd's chief counsel, made several objections, but they were overruled by the court. Judge Lynch then adjourned court until two p. m. when the first prosecuting witness was to be called.

Shepherd lost the first skirmish in his fight for life when Judge Thomas J. Lynch refused to restrict the state's opening statement to the jury.

Shepherd's chief attorney sought to have the court exclude reference to the death of Billy McClintock's mother, claiming such reference would prejudice the jury.

Judge Lynch ruled that State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe might go ahead with his opening statement and agreed to stop him should he make any improper remarks.

John T. Scopes, Dayton, Tenn.,
School Teacher, Accompanied by
His Counsel for Hearing

IS FETED IN NEW YORK CITY

(By United Press)

New York, June 11—Weary after six days as the center of attraction here John T. Scopes, the country school teacher who soon must stand trial in Tennessee for teaching evolution, left today for Dayton, Tenn.

Dr. John R. Neal, who, with Bainbridge Colby, Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and other prominent attorneys, will defend him at the approaching trial, accompanied Scopes.

A banquet in Scopes' honor was held last night at the Civic club.

Referring to the evolution case, Scopes said:

"If you are going to be a goat you want to take thought as to whether you are going to be a big goat or a little one. I really and truly think this is a fight for freedom of thought."

In his speech Clarence Darrow deplored the fact that so many people had tried to improve the world and only succeeded in making it worse.

RAIN IS NEEDED IN MOST PLACES

Continued Drought Costs Farmers of State Million Dollars a Day According to Estimate

WHEAT, OATS, HAY SUFFER

M. M. Justin, Federal Agricultural Agent, Summarizes Conditions From Frost and Drought

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11—Continued drought is costing Indiana farmers $1,000,000 a day. M. M. Justin, federal agriculture statistician for Indiana, announced today.

Justin based his figure on damage to wheat, oats and hay crops alone, and said that the total damage would greatly exceed $1,000,000 daily.

Recent frost damage estimated by Purdue University at $10,000,000 has been exceeded by loss from drought, Justin said. The actual damage was started about June 1.

"Wheat, oats and hay are in critical condition," Justin said. "Hay is virtually beyond the point where it can be said. What is filling out and will be ready to cut soon. The dry weather and extreme heat cause the heads to fill out poorly and the kernels themselves to shrivel up."

In addition, Justin pointed out that the wheat will be short and much of it will be lost in harvesting as the binder will not be able to handle it properly. Oats face the same condition, he said.

About 20,000 acres of oats in Indiana was killed by frost, Justin said. Much of the acreage was planted in corn, because the frost came too late to re-seed the oats.

Half a million acres of corn in Indiana had to be replanted because of the frost. This replanted corn is not germinating properly because of lack of rain, but corn is not so badly injured as other crops.

Fruit and vegetable crops that escaped the frost have been greatly retarded by the drought, Justin said.

PRESENT WHEAT CROP WILL SHOW DECREASE

Smallest Production of Wheat in United States Since 1917 is Prediction of Crop Experts

JUST MEETS DOMESTIC NEEDS

BY HENRY LITTLE
Washington, June 11—The United States will not be the bread basket of the world this year.

With the smallest production of wheat since 1917 in prospect, economic experts of the department of agriculture today said the 661,000,000 bushels expected on the basis of June 1 condition would just meet the needs of domestic consumption.

Condition of wheat in Europe, India, Canada and northern Africa, the other principal bread producers, of the world, are all good—much better than in the United States—and the world need not fear a famine, experts said.

The indicated decrease of approximately 25 percent in United States production may cause increases in many wheat products to the consumer and boost grain prices generally.

The terrific heat wave of late May and early June was only the "last straw" in a series of circumstances unfavorable to the crop.

The spring wheat crop is in fair condition and with an increased acreage planted promised to produce about 250,000,000 bushels, just a little more than the ten year average although lower than last year.

TO CHECK UP ON COMMON BARBERRY

in Rush county, as the common barberry can always be found in adjacent territory, and be destroyed.

Those who are suspicious of this rust being in their wheat at harvest time are urged to notify the county agent so that a check can be made and the common barberry destroyed.

In 1914 Darius Patterson of this county had two fields so badly infested that he didn't even take a binder into them. In 1917 and again in 1922, his wheat was again damaged by stem rust. In October of 1922 the mystery of the rust was uncovered when a barberry bush was found growing along a fence on the farm. With its removal, no sign of stem rust has been reported since.

Leer explains how barberries play an important part in spreading stem rust. Briefly, the leaves of the barberry attract spores blown about by the wind. These spores grow on the leaves, forming little cups, which when they open, let loose what are termed yellow acispores, which fall on wheat, germinating and producing blisters, from which come the black stem rust.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend."

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., B. A. 16, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book, containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

BIBLE THOUGHT

Bible Thoughts memorized, will prove a priceless heritage in after years

Bank Protection

All of the group meetings of the Indiana Bankers association that have met this year have endorsed the Iowa plan to arm and deputize a number of men in each community where a bank is located, in an effort to curb bank banditry. The group to which Rush county banks belong, meeting near Greensburg today, was expected to take similar action.

Although the plan may be approved by all bank groups, Rushville bankers are not especially enamored with it, because they logically reason that armed deputies would be worth little unless they were on the job during the hours the bank was open.

However, bank robberies have been increasing at such an alarming rate that bankers have reached the stage where they will be willing to try most anything, if it holds any hope of accomplishing the ends desired.

An average of one bank robbery every other day for the first eight days of June in Indiana has aroused bankers to action. They are alarmed not alone at the danger in which they and their employees are placed, but also at the rapidity with which robbery insurance rates are mounting.

The thing that has inclined bankers to favor the Iowa plan is the record it made. In 1920, it is pointed out, there were fifty-six holdups and burglaries involving a loss of $250,000 and last year there were only four banks suffering from robberies, with a total loss of $2,600. Iowa is back under the minimum robbery insurance rate of $1, in Indiana the rate runs from $2 to $3 a thousand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped where Other Medicines Failed

Walpole, N. H.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it has improved my health wonderfully. For months and months I was not regular and had terrible pains. They used to affect my side so I could not work. I read of others being helped by the Vegetable Compound, so I thought it might help me. I am very much better now, strong enough to do my own housework, and have two dear babies to care for besides. I tried other medicines before taking the Vegetable Compound, but I was never treated for my troubles. I speak highly of the Vegetable Compound to my friends and recommend it to any woman for run-down and nervous condition."—Mrs. T. H. FULLER, Walpole, New Hampshire.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

98 out of every 100 of the replies say, "Yes" and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Swimming Dangers

In the good old days when sanitation was little heard of, no one ever feared the refreshing water of the old swimming hole.

But the present is different. Contamination may lurk in streams and small rivers, especially following a long drouth, when there has been no rainfall to flush the streams and cleanse the water.

Due to the lack of rain that has been general over the country, rivers are lower now than they have been for years, even during August when they reach the lowest level.

This should be warning enough to those who are tempted to venture into the water for a cooling swim.

There are few streams that are not contaminated with sewage which is not readily carried off when the water is sluggish. And it is in this that the danger lies. If they do not receive sewage, there are other ways by which disease germs, such as typhoid, may be developed when the stream is not swift moving and cleansing itself.

Parents will do well to persuade their children to remain out of the rivers and small streams until conditions are improved with rain.

Unity in Canada

The United Church of Canada, which has just been born, is heralded as the most important step toward Protestant unity in the history of religion.

Canadian organizations of Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches gave up their individuality and joined hands under the new name. They will worship under one roof.

A total of 8,771 congregations were united, with adherents numbering two and one-half million.

This is a great step forward, and one that thousands of devout church members have prayed for in the United States.

The Canadian experiment will be watched closely in this country and its success or failure will have a very important bearing on the future of denominationalism here.

It was during the recent torrid spell.

"This weather!" Fanning himself weakly, my visitor mopped his dripping brow.

A member of the Washington diplomatic corps, he represents a republic almost wholly within the tropics. His home town is but a few miles off the equator. Nevertheless, our summer climate had him going.

Dropping in on a news matter, he sat stolidly, gasping, reluctant to venture out again, even in the shade of the umbrella he carried.

"Oh, yes," he admitted patently, "in my country we have more heat, but spread out over the year—never concentrated like this."

FROM black-dyed straw hat to patent leather shoes, he was clad all in the same raven hue, like a true son of the tropics.

South of the Caribbean it's generally contended that black affords best protection against the ardent rays of the sun. Foreigners affect white there, but the natives declare it a mistake.

UPPER class equatorials are very punctilious as to appearances.

Not much is expected of common tellers, to be sure. A Mother Hubbard will do for a working woman, an undershirt and pair of trousers for a working man. Children do with still less, down to nothing.

But these folk aren't admitted to any company which is the least bit exclusive.

In Rio de Janeiro, for instance, no male passenger is permitted on a "first-class" street car except fully dressed, including coat and—now you'll see the point—shoes.

They have to be particular. Otherwise there's no knowing, in that country, to what extremes undress might go.

PARAGUAYANS even resent a cork helmet on a foreigner's head. "He must think he's in the wilderness, instead of a highly civilized, up-to-date country, to wear that thing," they say.

ALL the same, the nordic could, though he won't, learn a lot about hot weather comfort from the equatorial. The latter works during the hours when exertion is tolerable and rests when it isn't. He's up and about by 5 or 6 a. m.

The bulk of his day's business is transacted in the cool of the morning. Toward 10 or 11 he knocks off.

His principal meal—breakfast or "almuerzo"—follows; afterward four or five hours' siesta in a darkened room.

He couldn't sleep thus in the temperate zone. His job wouldn't let him. In the tropics he can.

At 4 or 5 he reappears. Three or four hours' work remains to be done; then a late dinner, a few hours' recreation under the stars, the balance of his daily rest and he's ready for another round, in pretty good shape.

THE nordic? In boiling Washington, Chicago, New York, everywhere, he's at his task just as in winter—at 8 or 9 o'clock.

Right through the hottest part of the day he sweaters, bathed in sweat, swilling iced drinks, gulping a hurried noon meal, gasping for air. At 10 to midnight he turns in.

Kicking, thrashing and cussing the weather, he rolls around sleeplessly, only at length to fall into a troubled slumber a few minutes before time for thousands of yowling auto horns, clumping delivery men and factory whistles to wake him up, unrefreshed, to go at it again.

THE equatorial has learned the lesson of adapting human affairs to natural conditions.

The nordic sticks to his old system of passing laws requiring natural conditions to adapt themselves to human affairs.

Improved Telephone Service is Now Assured by Local Company

The Rushville Co-operative Telephone company cut in a new circuit to Cincinnati Wednesday and first class telephone service to that city is now assured, it was announced today by George H. Davis, manager of the company.

Up to this time a roundabout circuit has been used, resulting in very unsatisfactory service, but the new line gives Rushville direct connection with Cincinnati, with no other towns or cities on it. It was also given better service to Lawrenceburg, Aurora, Rising Sun and other southeastern Indiana towns.

Mr. Davis also stated that another new circuit to Indianapolis had been added, making five that are now in use.

ASSAILANT OF CHIEF OF POLICE BLOWS OFF HEAD

Mt. Vernon, Ind., June 11—Using the same sawed-off shotgun with which he shot and wounded J. W. Moses, chief of police, John Derrington, garage owner, today killed himself by blowing off the top of his head.

Derrington's body was found in the rear of his garage. He had been dead for some time when the body was discovered.

Moses raided Derrington's home and seized a quantity of liquor Tuesday and obtained a warrant for Derrington's arrest.

Hearing of the impending arrest, Derrington went in search of Moses and shot him in the head yesterday. Moses is expected to recover.

Derrington evaded arrest after the shooting and returned to his garage and killed himself this morning.

J. P. FRAZEE SUFFERS ATTACK

John P. Frazee, Sr., local coal and lumber dealer, who was taken sick Tuesday afternoon while visiting with his son, Louis Frazee, in Bellingham, Wash., is not regarded to be in a serious condition, according to wires received here by relatives but upon his removal to a hospital in that city, it was indicated that he would probably be bed fast for a week or two. It is not known what Mr. Frazee's trouble is, but it is thought that poisoning may be the cause.

Mr. Frazee left this city over a week ago for an extended trip through the west and had just arrived in Bellingham from Miles City, Mont., where he had been visiting his daughter Mrs. J. G. Drum.

RIFLIANS HOLD POSITIONS

Rabat, Morocco, June 11—The Riflians are keeping up their new position against the French forces. Just at the time Premier Painleve is visiting the fighting zone, they attacked the French post at Tafraut during the night, but according to today's French communique, were victoriously resisted.

LaRoche, Morocco, June 11—French forces in the region of Audner and Achirkanen have been compelled to retire before the Riflians drive, according to advices reached here today. The French destroyed much material before retreating so it might not fall in the enemy's hands.

Honking of Horn On Auto In Flames Saves Family

(By United Press) Columbus, Ind., June 11—The honking of a horn on a burning automobile early today probably saved the lives of members of the family of Charles Crump when fire destroyed poultry buildings on his farm near here.

Fourteen hundred chickens and three automobiles were burned with the buildings. As the insulation on wire of one of the automobiles was burned off, the horn honked, awakening Crump and his family.

With the aid of neighbors he prevented the blaze from spreading to the house. Loss from the fire was $2,000. It is believed the blaze was of incendiary origin.

TO ALLOW ATTORNEYS 2 HOURS

Noblesville, Ind., June 11—Judge Fred E. Hines with a crowded docket before him Friday, indicated today he would allow attorneys only about two hours to argue on the motion that the State turn over certain evidence in cases of D. C. Stephenson, Earl Kleck and Earl Gentry charged with the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, of Indianapolis.

Defense attorneys are asking that Prosecutor William H. Remy turn over the alleged dying statement of Miss Oberholtzer and the page of the Indiana Hotel register at Hammond, supposed to contain the names of the girl and of some of the defendants. The defense, it is said, is seeking this evidence on which to base its plea for bail for the defendants. Argument on bail will be heard Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week.

CONVENTION PLACE CHANGED

John P. Stech, clerk of the local Modern Woodmen lodge, received word this morning from the head clerk of the order, stating that the national camp meeting to be held the latter part of this month in Milwaukee, had been changed because of unsatisfactory conditions, to the city of Chicago.

The headquarters for the Woodmen will be at the Hotel Sherman, with the drill teams being housed in the municipal pier building. The Rushville members, including the degree team which forms a battalion in charge of C. C. Richey of Greensburg, Local Woodmen will make the trip in machines.

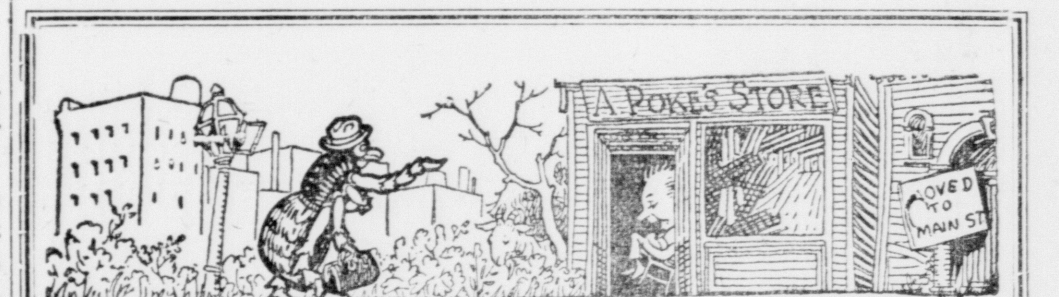

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Robert E. Mansfield, who has been suffering from heart trouble following an attack of pleurisy at his home in North Perkins street, is slowly improving and his condition is thought to be no longer critical, according to physicians attending him. Mr. Mansfield has been on the road to recovery ever since Sunday and is gradually showing more signs of renewed strength.

COLOR PICTURES PLEASING

The color pictures of Hawaii, which were made by C. R. Reeves of Honolulu, formerly of Anderson, Ind., and exhibited at the Main Street Christian church Wednesday evening, won the admiration of a good sized crowd. The showing was under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary society of the church.

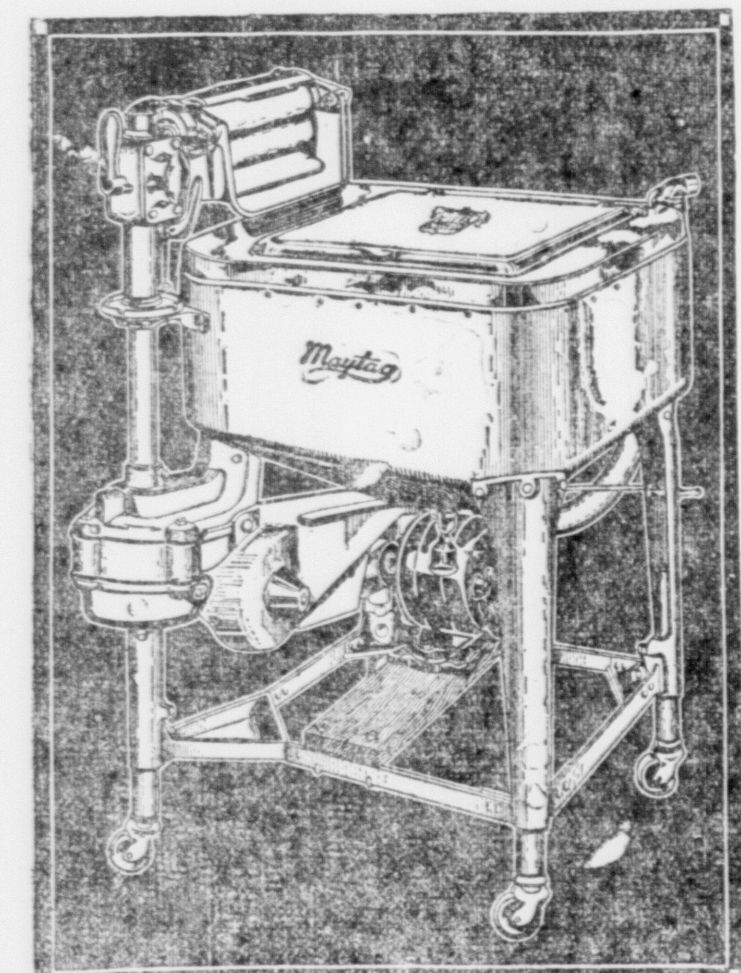

The entertainment proved to be all that had been said of it and the marvelous coloring that was brought out in the pictures proved to be a source of wonder and surprise to the audience. Mr. Reeves, who spent four years in Hawaii, explained the pictures and his lecture regarding the habits and customs of the people proved very interesting.

A sign spelled "A. Poke's Store;" a spider read, and then he said, "Homeseeking days are o'er." His silken web he spun across the door, and nevermore was roused by any one. "Why should I advertise? Gosh! I've been here nigh twenty years with this same line of ties! If folks come down this way, they all can see that here I be." Thus Merchant Poke would say. But on another street, a dealer true advises you of wares and prices meet. The shoppers strain his doors; and with their scads he runs more ads, and builds up two more floors!

Then to this tale give heed—and if you'd nurse a well-lined purse, just emulate Hi Speed. For in this very space he tells folks all, both short and tall, of bargains and his place.

CHIEF CAUPOLICAN IS BACK THIS YEAR

South American Indian Will Appear
in a Recital at Rush County
Chautauqua Fri., Aug. 14

HERE SEVERAL YEARS AGO

Possessed of Clear and Powerful
Baritone Voice, he Sings Prominent Operatic Parts

Chief Caupolican, South American Indian, who appeared at the Rush county chautauqua several years ago, will be back again this year and will be one of the feature attractions on Friday, August 14. He has been with the Metropolitan Opera for the past three years and has won renown as a singer. When he first visited Rushville, he spoke most of the time during his program and sang only a few songs.

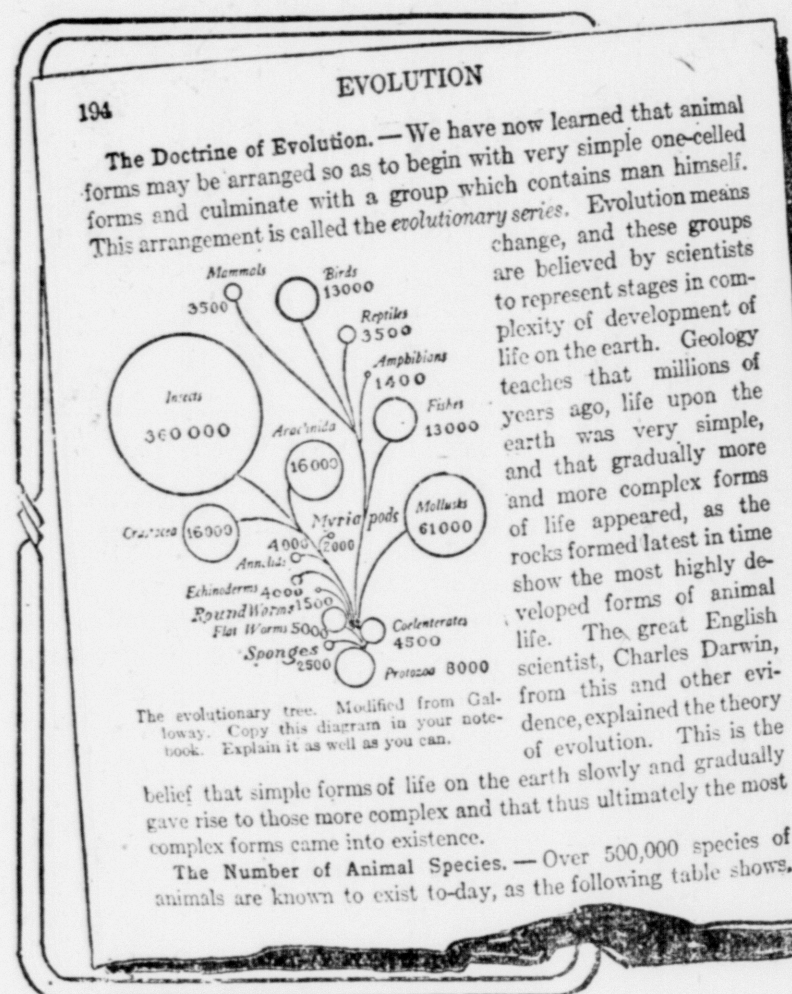

Chief Caupolican is a man of culture and refinement. He was born in South America and studied in the universities in Paris and other European centers. He has an unusually clear and powerful baritone voice, and has sung prominent operatic parts in English, Italian and French. He spoke six languages with ease, and talks entertainingly and with the confidence that carries conviction if international questions which confront the people of North and South America today.

Though he has been separated from his people for a number of years, he still retains a sincere and deep interest in them. He has been on the vaudeville stage and Chautauqua platform in this country for three years at handsome salaries, for his act never fails to please. He says he intends to continue on the stage another seven years, saving his money, and at the end of which time he expects to return to his people and devote his acquired wealth and wide experience and education to helping them in every way possible. They still live by their traditional customs and have made little progress in the last thousand years, he said.

Chief Caupolican traces his ancestry back 400 years through a long line of brilliant chiefs who led his tribe through many successful wars and for years resisted the Spanish invaders under Valdivia, the first white Governor of Chile. The name of his ancestor who led the tribe in this heroic struggle to retain the land of their forefathers against the white man is interwoven in the epic of Chile.

This Caused Scopes' Indictment

This is what started all the trouble. It is a page from George W. Hunter's "Civic Biology" text book, which John T. Scopes used in his classes at Dayton, Tenn., and for which he was indicted as a violator of the anti-evolution law. Accompanying is a picture of Charles Darwin.

A Thrilling Plot

"You think I'll shoot? You know damned well I'll shoot!" These words, snapped out, shortly, sharply and decisively, came from the mouth of a woman. And the man knew that she meant what she said.

He was an officer of the Northwest Mounted. She was a young girl aiding her lover to escape the law and the penalty of taking a life.

This is one of the tense, breath-taking scenes in David Belasco's "Tiger Rose" which is to appear at the Castle theatre today and Friday. Would the officer risk the chance of a shot and capture his man? He knew that he was hidden somewhere in the house. He also knew that the girl, named "Tiger Rose," would shoot, and shoot to kill.

The entire picture is filled with scenes full of suspense, heart throbs and pathos, where your heart goes out to the poor, untutored girl, brought up in an environment of almost lawless freedom and absence of the usual restraints to the emotions that are raised around the existence of a community in the States.

This role is characterized by Lenore Ulric, the Belasco star, who made such a tremendous success in the same role when "Tiger Rose"

ran for two years on Broadway. Much realism and vividness was given to the original play in the screen version written by Edmund Goulding and Millard Webb.

Eleanor Boardman Starring

Tho those captions, cinematic critics who are always decrying the lack of "intelligence" in pictures, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company might well say: "See 'Wife of the Centaur.'" This picturization of Cyril Hume's sensational novel opened last night at the Princess theatre, and proved itself to be one of the best offerings of the season.

The story—instead of a familiar plot—is based upon a serious theory; the theory being that every man is a "centaur," that he is half beast and half man, a battlefield in which the war of conflicting emotion is always being waged.

Hume's story has been transposed to the screen faithfully by King Vidor, and told with all that director's skill, Gilbert, in his new era of screen work, gives a finely drawn performance as Jeffrey. Eleanor Boardman, as the wife, is ideally cast, and Aileen Pringle, as the "other woman" has all the charm and attraction which made her so popular in "Three Weeks" and "His Hour."

SPOILING Thousands for other Cars

The Chrysler Six has brought about a startling and unique motor car situation in motor car ownership.

All over America are families which own two, three, four and even seven Chrysler cars.

There are two main reasons—but they both go straight back to the fact that it is a genuine delight to drive a Chrysler Six.

They go straight back to the fact that the Chrysler Six is an entirely new type of car, built on a new kind of engineering, which produces results radically different from any heretofore registered.

At one extreme are the families which can afford the most expensive chauffeur-driven cars.

Many of these have found a new joy in motoring. Men who have not driven their own cars for years are now driving their own Chryslers. They have discarded the heavy, cumbersome cars; or keep them only for occasional use.

For general use—the Chrysler Six. So great is the demand to drive this car on the part of both men and women in the same family, that two or three and even more Chrysler cars are found necessary.

The other side of the picture shows families which have owned a car costing perhaps twice as much as the Chrysler Six, and who have discarded it in the interests of economy and greater convenience.

Now they own and operate two Chrysler Six cars for the cost of one cumbersome car which does not begin to bring the driving and riding thrill ever present in the Chrysler Six.

You, too, will become a Chrysler enthusiast after your first thrilling, delightful ride and drive in a Chrysler Six—a ride we are eager and anxious to give you.

Typical Reasons Why Many Families Own Two or More Chrysler Cars

Mr. Edward C. Taubel, of Norristown, Pa., says: "The four cars we have purchased from you have been a revelation to us in easy handling, small amount of upkeep and general all around service. "Having owned high priced cars for the past 15 years we feel we are giving you well deserved thanks for making us Chrysler owners."

E. W. Holmes, of Buffalo, New York, who owns two Chryslers, makes the significant statement: "The Chrysler handles so well it discourages one from driving anything else."

BANDITS IN GUN BATTLE, ESCAPE

Two Youngsters Hold up Branch Bank of Fletcher Savings and
Trust Co., in Indianapolis

FORCE EMPLOYEES TO HEAR

Motorcycle Policeman Gives Chase,
Emptying Revolver, But Holdup
Men Elude Pursuer

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11—Two youthful bandits held up a branch bank of the Fletcher Savings and Trust company at Sixteenth and Illinois streets today and escaped with $4,300 in cash after a running gun battle with Hiram Fisher, motorcycle policeman.

After robbing the bank, the bandits sped eastward in Sixteenth street to Broadway, where they were met by Fisher. One of the bandits drew a revolver and Fisher opened fire.

The bandits' auto lurched around the corner northward into Broadway, both the bandits' revolver and the policeman's gun spitting bullets.

Guiding his motorcycle with one hand and firing with the other, Fisher followed the car.

During the chase bullets broke the windshield of the bandits' car and Fisher believed one of the men was wounded.

After a chase of several blocks, Fisher had emptied his gun and stopped to reload. The bandit car sped on and disappeared.

C. F. Mitchell, cashier, was sitting at his desk in the front of the bank with a revolver lying on the desk when the bandits entered.

Calmly puffing at a cigar, the leader flourished a revolver and drove Mitchell and four employees of the bank into a rear room and forced them to lie on the floor while his confederate slipped behind the cashier's cage and took the money.

The two men ran out the front door and drove away in their auto while Mitchell and the bank employees were still in the back room.

Mitchell said the two bandits were less than 21 years of age.

"I thought they were joking," he said, "and didn't pay any attention to their first order to get into the back room."

"I changed my mind when the fellow started getting nervous with his trigger finger."

The robbery occurred half an hour after the bank had opened for business.

A general alarm was sent out and squads of police rushed to the district to trail the bandit car.

Bank robberies in Indiana have averaged nearly one a day for the past week. Up to today the total loot included more than $50,000.

STATE LEGION OFFICER ADDRESSES KIWANIANS

Barnett Breedlove of Indianapolis Explains Work Being Done For Ex-Service Men

SEVERAL GUESTS PRESENT

Barnett Breedlove of Indianapolis, Indiana, Service Officer of the American Legion, was here today and addressed the Kiwanis club, relating to the operations of the service department for former World War Veterans.

Several guests were present at the luncheon and among them were C. L. Henry of Indianapolis, Dr. L. M. Green of this city, Paul Jordan of Indianapolis, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Smullen of Raleigh and Miss Margaret Guffin of this city.

Mr. Breedlove, in his address, carried an impressive message to the club members, pointing out the important factors of the inside work being done by the Legion of the state. He was here last Sunday afternoon at the district meeting of the Legion. This week he was elevated to a new field position in the state, and in this way he will be more closely in touch with Legion activities throughout the state.

GUARDSMEN TO PROTECT BANKS

Will be Available Until Bankers Organize "Sharpshooters"

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11—Lieut. Col. Robert Axtell, member of the administrative staff of the Indiana National Guard, has been placed in direct charge of troops who will be used to protect banks against the activities of bandit gangs, it was learned today at the state house.

Adj. General Kershner closely guarded the plan for cooperation between the guards and the Indiana banker's association in curbing the wave of banditry. It was understood, however, that detachments of guardsmen will be assigned to protect banks until the bankers association has completed organization of squads of "sharpshooters" in each county to wage open warfare on the bandits.

COUNCIL PASSES BOND RESOLUTION

Acts Favorably on School Board's
Declaration to Issue Bonds for
New School Building

ATHLETIC BODY TO HELP

Articles of Incorporation to be Filed
At Once so That Work May Get
Started

The city council today approved the resolution adopted by the Rushville school trustees, declaring it to be the intention of the school city to issue $40,000 in bonds to erect a school building.

Articles of incorporation were to be drawn up today for the Rushville Public School Athletic association, a non-profit organization composed of Rushville citizens who pledged loans without interest to be used in the erection of a gymnasium.

The articles of incorporation will be filed at once and as soon as the necessary legal steps have been taken, the bonds will be issued and sold and the contract let for the building, so that it may be finished, if possible, by the time the basketball season opens next November.

The money derived by the sale of the bonds will be combined with that received from the non-interest bearing loans to erect the building which will not be altogether a gymnasium for basketball purposes. Rooms will be provided under the gymnasium seats for vocational training and the gymnasium will provide the space necessary to put the public school physical education program on a larger basis, so that it will be available for all school children.

The space and equipment for physical education is now so limited that gymnasium work is restricted largely to boys and girls who are members of athletic teams. It is pointed out that if the new gymnasium is provided, the Graham Annex gymnasium may be used all through the school year for physical education.

BANK CASES SENT TO HENRY COUNTY

Suits Brought by Cora and Lot Holman and John M. Ryan Will
Be Tried at Newcastle

JUDGMENTS ENTERED

Finding for Peoples Loan and Trust
Co., and Bank of Carthage on
Notes

Two important cases filed several months ago in the circuit court involving damage suits against the Peoples National Bank, have been venued to Henry county for trial, following the granting of the petition of the defendants.

The cases were filed by Cora and Lot Holman against the bank, demanding $25,000 damages for the alleged loss of money invested upon recommendation of Earl H. Payne, former bank officer, and by James M. Ryan against the same bank and upon the same allegations, in which he is seeking $10,000 judgment.

The cases have been pending here for several months but were never called for trial, although several issues had been presented in the preliminary steps to the trial. Rufus Hinshaw is judge of the Henry circuit court, and will have future jurisdiction in the cases.

John D. Megee, local attorney, has been appointed by Judge Sparks to act as special judge in the divorce suit pending trial of Carrie Fleehart against Fred Fleehart, following a motion by the plaintiff requesting a change of judge.

A court judgment was entered today in the case of the Peoples Loan and Trust company against Melvin D. Seeley. The judgment renders $1,971 on a note in favor of the Bank of Carthage against Seeley. On the second judgment the Peoples Loan and Trust Company is given $2,117.33 judgment against Seeley and others.

In the case of Edgar Stiers, administrator of the estate of John O. Williams, against Sylvester McKibben and others, judgment on a note has been entered for $198.49 and costs.

Judge Sparks also has heard the evidence in the case of Albert L. Bundy against Lena Bell Ball, administratrix of the estate of William Bundy, the action being to construe the meaning of certain items in a will. The court has the evidence under consideration.

BOYS AND PARENTS URGED TO BE PRESENT

All Others Interested in Camp
Crosley Invited to Public Meeting
Friday Night

DIRECTOR WILL BE HERE

All boys over ten years of age, together with their parents and any other persons interested, are invited to the Graham Annex auditorium Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Herbert A. Pettijohn, boys' work secretary of the Muncie Y. M. C. A., will show motion pictures of activities at Camp Crosley on Lake Tippecanoe, and tell something about the camp and its work.

Mr. Pettijohn is director of the camp and came here at the invitation of local organizations interested in boys' work, to give the boys of Rushville and vicinity an opportunity to attend the camp.

A group of boys from here will be sponsored by local organizations and arrangements will be made to send them to Camp Crosley this summer, probably during July.

The camp, which is in its eleventh season, was donated by the late Edmund Burke Ball of Muncie in memory of his son, for whom it was named, and is amply endowed, so that boys are given splendid facilities at a minimum cost. It is a typical Y. M. C. A. camp with competent supervisors who guard their health and protect from accidents.

WARMER WEATHER IS IN SIGHT

No Relief From Drought is Predicted, However

The temperature today remained chilly for mid-June weather, but will rise tonight and Friday, according to the prediction of the Indiana weather man.

No relief is in sight from the general drought, which is becoming steadily more pronounced. Oats and wheat are said to be worst affected by the lack of rainfall.

A heat wave was reported in dispatches to have settled over the southwest and parts of the middle-west. Refreshing showers fell in Montana, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the northern tips of Iowa and Illinois.

John H. Power, age 79, a well known resident of Rush county, and formerly a stock buyer and farmer, died Wednesday night shortly before ten o'clock at his home, 621 North Main street.

Death was caused from a three years illness with leakage of the heart, and following a rapid decline since Monday. The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Main Street Christian church, in charge of the Rev. B. F. Cato of this city and the Rev. L. E. FIRE PLUG IS BROKEN BY AUTO

Police Will Serve Notice on Occupants They Are Responsible

The police today were preparing to serve notice on an automobile owner at Shelbyville, for breaking off a fire hydrant Wednesday evening about seven o'clock at First and Pearl streets, and failing to stop after the accident.

The car was driven and occupied by women, according to witnesses, and the license number of the machine was obtained, corresponding to the series of numbers issued in Shelby county. The car was described as being practically new, and the woman driver is said to have lost control, going over the curb, and striking the fire plug, causing an excessive flow of water. It was necessary to shut off the water at the plant while the damage was being repaired. The damage was estimated at more than $100. After the accident, the car is said to have left the scene as a crowd gathered.

TO CHECK UP ON COMMON BARBERRY

W. E. Leer, Leader of Eradication
Work in Indiana, Will Hunt for
Source of Black Stem Rust

BARBERRY FARMER'S ENEMY

Experience in This County Teaches
That It Should be Stamped Out—
Losses in Years Past

Farm leaders in different parts of Rush county have been receiving during the past few days information from W. E. Leer, state leader of barberry eradication in Indiana, stating that a check will soon be made in Rush county in regard to the common barberry, which spreads black stem rust.

Two grain rusts are common—black stem rust and leaf rust, both are red in the summer stage. The black stem rust is effectively controlled by barberry eradication. The leaf rust has no relation to barberry.

The red rust stage of the black stem rust has appeared in certain sections of the state already. The black stage which is most conspicuous will soon follow the red stage, and will likely be quite noticeable at harvest time, if stem rust is present it is pointed out.

There seems to be considerable leaf rust this year, according to reports received by the county agent Herschel Van Matre. The stem rust is found mostly on stems and the leaf rust on leaves. When in doubt, farmers are advised to take a knife and place some of the red spores in a drop of water and when viewed under the microscope the stem rust spores are oblong in shape while the leaf rust spores are nearly round.

Mr. Leer is very anxious to locate the black stem rust if there is any

Helen Wissing Presents Can of Pears to Mrs. Coolidge

Miss Helen Wissing of Manilla, state canning queen, who was crowned the first of this year at Lafayette as the result of winning the sweepstakes for canning, was to present a can of her best pears to Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the president, at the White House in Washington today.

She is one of the Indiana boys and girls who were taken to Washington as a prize for superiority in boys' and girls' club work.

Frank Lux of Shelby county, Indiana boys' corn king, also was to present one of his prize ears of corn to the president.

There are 246 Rush county boys and girls in club work this year and the question arises whether any of them will be in Washington this time next year.

All of the club leaders are stressing the importance of making an exhibit at the state fair, which leads up to the state show the first of next year.

MURDER CLIMAX TO A WELL LAID PLOT

State's Attorney Charges Shepherd
Planned for Many Years to Slay
His Ward

TO INHERIT HIS FORTUNE

Opening Statement Made in "Germ
Murder" Trial—Judge Refuses
to Restrict Crowe

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., June 11—William D. Shepherd murdered Billy McClintock, millionaire foster son as a climax to a long standing plot to obtain the McClintock fortune, State's attorney Robert E. Crowe told the jury in his opening statement today.

Crowe went over Shepherd's entire history and seeking to show the jury that Shepherd had lived in anticipation of inheriting the one million dollar estate. Crowe then told of Mrs. McClintock's death. He made no charge of murder against Shepherd for this death, but told the jury Shepherd was "dancing with glee" when he learned Mrs. McClintock was dead and he was to be one of Billy's guardians.

The plan of aetio, Crowe declared, consisted of raising Billy to the threshold of manhood and getting him to make a will. Then Crowe charged Shepherd committed the murder.

He could not murder Billy before he was twenty-one years old because he knew that in such a case the money would go to Billy's relatives, Crowe declared.

"This was to be no cheap murder," he said, "This was to be a clever crime of perfect execution, so that Shepherd would escape detection. So he went to Faiman and learned how to get some typhoid fever germs and feed them to Billy so that he would die."

Crowe made no request of the death penalty, saving that for his closing argument.

When he had finished William Stewart, Shepherd's chief counsel, made several objections, but they were overruled by the court. Judge Lynch then adjourned court until two p. m. when the first prosecuting witness was to be called.

Shepherd lost the first skirmish in his fight for life when Judge Thomas J. Lynch refused to restrict the state's opening statement to the jury.

Shepherd's chief attorney sought to have the court exclude reference to the death of Billy McClintock's mother, claiming such reference would prejudice the jury.

Judge Lynch ruled that State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe might go ahead with his opening statement and agreed to stop him should he make any improper remarks.

John T. Scopes, Dayton, Tenn.,
School Teacher, Accompanied by
His Counsel for Hearing

IS FETED IN NEW YORK CITY

(By United Press)

New York, June 11—Weary after six days as the center of attraction here John T. Scopes, the country school teacher who soon must stand trial in Tennessee for teaching evolution, left today for Dayton, Tenn.

Dr. John R. Neal, who, with Bainbridge Colby, Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and other prominent attorneys, will defend him at the approaching trial, accompanied Scopes.

A banquet in Scopes' honor was held last night at the Civic club.

Referring to the evolution case, Scopes said:

"If you are going to be a goat you want to take thought as to whether you are going to be a big goat or a little one. I really and truly think this is a fight for freedom of thought."

In his speech Clarence Darrow deplored the fact that so many people had tried to improve the world and only succeeded in making it worse.

Continued Drought Costs Farmers of State Millions Dollars a Day According to Estimate

WHEAT, OATS, HAY SUFFER

M. M. Justin, Federal Agricultural Agent, Summarizes Conditions From Frost and Drought

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11—Continued drought is costing Indiana farmers $1,000,000 a day. M. M. Justin, federal agriculture statistician for Indiana, announced today.

Justin based his figure on damage to wheat, oats and hay crops alone, and said that the total damage would greatly exceed $1,000,000 daily.

Recent frost damage estimated by Purdue University at $19,000,000 has been exceeded by loss from drought, Justin said. The actual damage was started about June 1. "Wheat, oats and hay are in critical condition," Justin said. "Hay is virtually beyond the point where it can be said. What is filling out and will be ready to cut soon. The dry weather and extreme heat cause the heads to fill out poorly and the kernels themselves to shrivel up."

In addition, Justin pointed out that the wheat will be short and much of it will be lost in harvesting as the binder will not be able to handle it properly. Oats face the same condition, he said.

About 20,000 acres of oats in Indiana was killed by frost, Justin said. Much of the acreage was planted in corn, because the frost came too late to re-seed the oats.

Half a million acres of corn in Indiana had to be replanted because of the frost. This replanted corn is not germinating properly because of lack of rain, but corn is not so badly injured as other crops.

Fruit and vegetable crops that escaped the frost have been greatly retarded by the drought, Justin said.

PRESENT WHEAT CROP WILL SHOW DECREASE

Smallest Production of Wheat in United States Since 1917 is Prediction of Crop Experts

JUST MEETS DOMESTIC NEEDS

BY HENRY LITTLE

Washington, June 11—The United States will not be the bread basket of the world this year.

With the smallest production of wheat since 1917 in prospect, economic experts of the department of agriculture today said the 661,000,000 bushels expected on the basis of June 1 condition would just meet the needs of domestic consumption.

Condition of wheat in Europe, India, Canada and northern Africa, the other principal bread producers, of the world, are all good—much better than in the United States—and the world need not fear a famine, experts said.

The indicated decrease of approximately 25 percent in United States production may cause increases in many wheat products to the consumer and boost grain prices generally.

The terrific heat wave of late May and early June was only the "last straw" in a series of circumstances unfavorable to the crop.

The spring wheat crop is in fair condition and with an increased acreage planted promised to produce about 250,000,000 bushels, just a little more than the ten year average although lower than last year.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., Bk 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

HALF OF CATTLE FROM HERE

Jersey Auction at Hamilton, O., Attended by Local Men

Approximately half of the cattle in the Dixie Farm Jersey sale at the fair ground at Hamilton, O., Wednesday, were consigned by Rush county men.

Fifteen of the cattle sold, belonged to Roll M. Richey, and two head were property of John F. Boyd. About twenty-five men from this county attended the sale. The cattle averaged $150 a head.

Mr. Richey, who has been interested in cattle for many years, formerly was connected with a Hamilton Jersey farm. He brought to Rush county some of the pure-breds when he returned here to live.

Elder is plaintiff against Edwin R. Casady, the demand being for $175 for alleged compensation. The plaintiff alleges that he was instrumental in locating a quantity of merchandise for the defendant, which was stored at Shirley. The defendant is charged with making the purchase, but is alleged not to have paid all of the commission that is due him, in which he seeks $175.

JOHN H. POWER, 79, DIES AT HOME HERE

After his marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Power continued to reside on the farm in Anderson township, until January 1875, when they moved to a farm in Jackson township. In October, 1883, they moved to this city for permanent residence.

In politics Mr. Power was a democrat, and his religious faith was that of the Christian church. Fraternally he was a member of Knights of Pythias lodge.

On October 27, 1871, he was married to Viola Murray, who preceded him in death in 1906. Their one daughter, Mrs. Mate Power Jay, also preceded him in death. The daughter married William Jay of this city, who with his daughter Miss Viola Jay, are among the survivors.

The deceased also reared two other children, Miss Florine Gronier, who lives at his home, and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Gronier Bradley of this city.

TO CHECK UP ON COMMON BARBERRY

in Rush county, as the common barberry can always be found in adjacent territory, and be destroyed.

Those who are suspicious of this rust being in their wheat at harvest time are urged to notify the county agent so that a check can be made and the common barberry destroyed.

In 1914 Darius Patterson of this county had two fields so badly infested that he didn't even take a binder into them. In 1917 and again in 1922, his wheat was again damaged by stem rust. In October of 1922 the mystery of the rust was uncovered when a barberry bush was found growing along a fence on the farm. With its removal, no sign of stem rust has been reported since.

Leer explains how barberries play an important part in spreading stem rust. Briefly, the leaves of the barberry attract spores blown about by the wind. These spores grow on the leaves, forming little cups, which when they open, let loose what are termed yellow ascospores, which fall on wheat, germinating and producing blisters, from which come the black stem rust.

Bank Protection

All of the group meetings of the Indiana Bankers association that have met this year have endorsed the Iowa plan to arm and deputize a number of men in each community where a bank is located, in an effort to curb bank banditry. The group to which Rush county banks belong, meeting near Greensburg today, was expected to take similar action.

Although the plan may be approved by all bank groups, Rushville bankers are not especially enamored with it, because they logically reason that armed deputies would be worth little unless they were on the job during the hours
the bank was open.

However, bank robberies have been increasing at such an alarming rate that bankers have reached the stage where they will be willing to try most anything, if it holds any hope of accomplishing the ends desired.

An average of one bank robbery every other day for the first eight days of June in Indiana has aroused bankers to action. They are alarmed not alone at the danger in which they and their employees are placed, but also at the rapidity with which robbery insurance rates are mounting.

The thing that has inclined bankers to favor the Iowa plan is the record it made. In 1920, it is pointed out, there were fifty-six holdups and burglaries involving a loss of $250,000 and last year there were only four banks suffering from robberies, with a total loss of $2,600.
Iowa is back under the minimum robbery insurance rate of $1. In Indiana the rate runs from $2 to $3 a thousand.

Swimming Dangers

In the good old days when sanitation was little heard of, no one ever feared the refreshing water of the old swimming hole.

But the present is different. Contamination may lurk in streams and small rivers, especially following a long drought, when there has been no rainfall to flush the streams and cleanse the water.

Due to the lack of rain that has been general over the country, rivers are lower now than they have been for years, even during August when they reach the lowest level.
This should be warning enough to those who are tempted to venture into the water for a cooling swim.

There are few streams that are not contaminated with sewage which is not readily carried off when the water is sluggish. And it is in this that the danger lies. If they do not receive sewage, there are other ways by which disease germs, such as typhoid, may be developed when the stream is not swift moving and cleansing itself.

Parents will do well to persuade their children to remain out of the rivers and small streams until conditions are improved with rain.

Unity in Canada

The United Church of Canada, which has just been born, is heralded as the most important step toward Protestant unity in the history of religion.

Canadian organizations of Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches gave up their individuality and joined hands under the new name. They will worship under one roof.

A total of 8,771 congregations were united, with adherents numbering two and one-half million.

This is a great step forward, and one that thousands of devout church members have prayed for in the United States.

The Canadian experiment will be watched closely in this country and its success or failure will have a very important bearing on the future of denominationalism here.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—“Caramba!”

It was during the recent torrid spell.

“This weather!” Fanning himself weakly, my visitor mopped his dripping brow.

A member of the Washington diplomatic corps, he represents a republic almost wholly within the tropics. His home town is but a few miles off the equator. Nevertheless, our summer climate had him going.

Dropping in on a news matter, he sat stickily, gasping, reluctant to venture out again, even in the shade of the umbrella he carried.
“Oh, yes,” he admitted pantingly, “in my country we have more heat, but spread out over the year—never concentrated like this.”

FROM black-dyed straw hat to patent leather shoes, he was clad all in the same raven hue, like a true son of the tropics.

South of the Caribbean is his generally contended that black affords best protection against the ardent rays of the sun. Foreigners affect white there, but the natives declare it a mistake.

UPPER class equatorials are very punctilious as to appearances.

Not much is expected of common toilers, to be sure. A Mother Hubbard will do for a working woman, an undershirt and pair of trousers for a working man. Children do with still less, down to nothing.

But these folk aren't admitted to any company which is the least bit exclusive.

In Rio de Janeiro, for instance, no male passenger is permitted on a “first-class” street car except fully dressed, including coat and now you'll see the point—shoes.

They have to be particular.
Otherwise there's no knowing, in that country, to what extremes undress might go.

PARAGUAYANS even resort to a cork helmet on a foreigner's head. “He must think he's in the wilderness instead of a highly civilized, up-to-date country, to wear that thing,” they say.

ALL the same, the nordic could, though he won't learn a lot about hot weather comfort from the equatorial. The latter works during the hours when exertion is tolerable and rests when it isn't. He's up and about by 8 or 8 a. m.

The bulk of his day's business is transacted in the cool of the morning. Toward 10 or 11 he knocks off.

His principal meal—breakfast or “almuerzo”—follows; afterward four or five hours' siesta in a darkened room.

He couldn't sleep thus in the temperate zone. His job wouldn't let him. In the tropics he can.
At 4 or 5 he reappears. Three or four hours' work remains to be done; then a late dinner, a few hours' recreation under the stars, the balance of his daily rest and he's ready for another round, in pretty good shape.

THE nordic? In boiling Washington, Chicago, New York, everywhere, he's at his task just as in winter—at 8 or 9 o'clock.

Right through the hottest part of the day he sweaters, bathed in sweat, swilling iced drinks, gulping a hurried noon meal, gasping for air. At 10 to midnight he turns in.

Kicking, thrashing and cursing the weather, he rolls around sleep-lessly, only at length to fall into a troubled slumber a few minutes before time, for thousands of yowling auto horns, clumping delivery men and factory whistles to wake him up, unrefreshed, to go at it again.

THE equatorial has learned the lesson of adapting human affairs to natural conditions.
The nordic sticks to his old system of passing laws requiring natural conditions to adapt themselves to human affairs.

Improved Telephone Service is Now Assured by Local Company

The Rushville Co-operative Telephone company cut in a new circuit to Cincinnati Wednesday and first class telephone service to that city is now assured, it was announced today by George H. Davis, manager of the company.

Up to this time a roundabout circuit has been used, resulting in very unsatisfactory service, but the new line gives Rushville direct connection with Cincinnati, with no other towns or cities on it. It was also given better service to Lawrenceburg, Aurora, Rising Sun and other southeastern Indiana towns.

Mr. Davis also stated that another new circuit to Indianapolis had been added, making five that are now in use.

Frazee, Sr., local coal and lumber dealer, who was taken sick Tuesday afternoon while visiting with his son, Louis Frazee, in Bellingham, Wash., is not regarded to be in a serious condition, according to wires received here by relatives but upon his removal to a hospital in that city, it was indicated that he would probably be bed fast for a week or two. It is not known what Mr. Frazee's trouble is, but it is thought that poisoning may be the cause.

Honking of Horn On Auto In Flames Saves Family

(By United Press) Columbus, Ind., June 11—The honking of a horn on a burning automobile early today probably saved the lives of members of the family of Charles Crump when fire destroyed poultry buildings on his farm near here.

Fourteen hundred chickens and three automobiles were burned with the buildings. As the insulation on wire of one of the automobiles was burned off, the horn honked, awakening Crump and his family.

With the aid of neighbors he prevented the blaze from spreading to the house. Loss from the fire was $2,000. It is believed the blaze was of incendiary origin.

TO ALLOW ATTORNEYS' 2 HOURS

Noblesville, Ind., June 11—Judge Fred E. Hines with a crowded docket before him Friday, indicated today he would allow attorneys only about two hours to argue on the motion that the State turn over certain evidence in cases of D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry charged with the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, of Indianapolis.

Defense attorneys are asking that Prosecutor William H. Remy turn over the alleged dying statement of Miss Oberholtzer and the page of the Indiana Hotel register at Hammond, supposed to contain the names of the girl and of some of the defendants. The defense, it is said, is seeking this evidence on which to base its plea for bail for the defendants. Argument on bail will be heard Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week.

CONVENTION PLACE CHANGED

John P. Stech, clerk of the local Modern Woodman lodge, received word this morning from the head clerk of the order, stating that the national camp meeting to be held the latter part of this month in Milwaukee, had been changed because of unsatisfactory conditions, to the city of Chicago.

COLOR PICTURES PLEASING

The color pictures of Hawaii, which were made by C. R. Reeves of Honolulu, formerly of Anderson, Ind., and exhibited at the Main Street Christian church Wednesday evening, won the admiration of a good sized crowd. The showing was under the auspices of the Woman's and customs of the people proved very interesting.

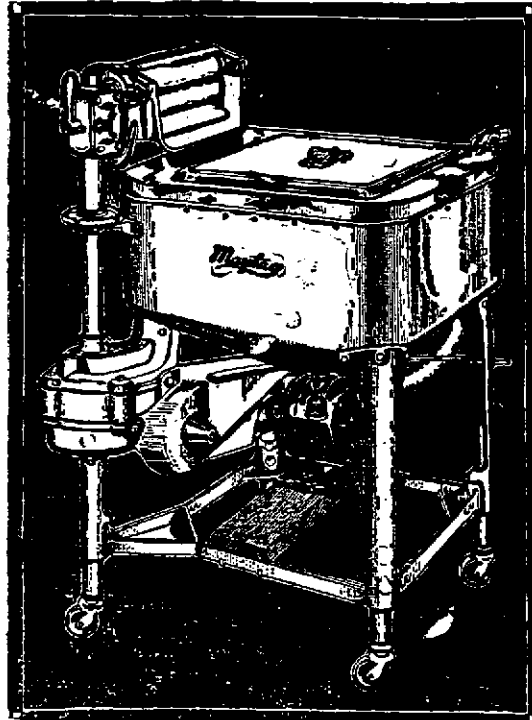

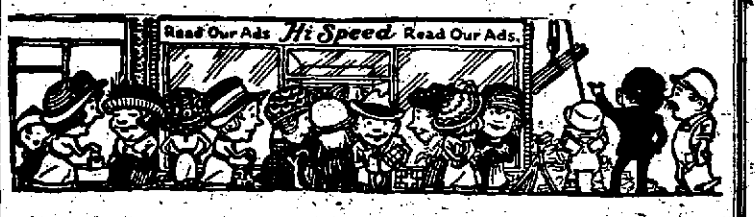

The entertainment proved to be all that had been said of it and the marvelous coloring that was brought out in the pictures proved to be a source of wonder and surprise to the audience.

A sign spelled "A. Poke's Store;" a spider read, and then he said, "Homeseeking days are o'er." His silken web he spun across the door, and nevermore was roused by any one. "Why should I advertise? Gosh! I've been here high twenty years with this same line of ties! If folks come down this way, they all can see that here I be." Thus Merchant Poke would say. But on another street, a dealer true advises you of wares and prices meet. The shoppers strain his doors; and with their scads he guns more ads, and builds up two more floors!

Then to this tale give heed—and if you'd nurse a well-lined purse, just emulate Hi Speed. For in this very space he tells folks all, both short and tall, of bargains and his place.

CHIEF CAUPOLICAN IS BACK THIS YEAR

South American Indian Will Appear
in a Recital at Rush County
Chautauqua Fri., Aug. 14

HERE SEVERAL YEARS AGO

Possessed of Clear and Powerful
Baritone Voice, he Sings Prominent Operatic Parts

Chief Caupolican, South American Indian, who appeared at the Rush county chautauqua several years ago, will be back again this year and will be one of the feature attractions on Friday, August 14. He has been with the Metropolitan Opera for the past three years and has won renown as a singer. When he first visited Rushville, he spoke most of the time during his program and sang only a few songs.

Chief Caupolican is a man of culture and refinement. He was born in South America and studied in the universities in Paris and other European centers. He has an unusually clear and powerful baritone voice, and has sung prominent operatic parts in English, Italian and French. He spoke six languages with ease, and talks entertainingly and with the confidence that carries conviction if international questions which confront the people of North and South America today.

Though he has been separated from his people for a number of years, he still retains a sincere and deep interest in them. He has been on the vaudeville stage and Chautauqua platform in this country for three years at handsome salaries, for his act never fails to please. He says he intends to continue on the stage another seven years, saving his money, and at the end of which time he expects to return to his people and devote his acquired wealth and wide experience and education to helping them in every way possible. They still live by their traditional customs and have made little progress in the last thousand years, he said.

Chief Caupolican traces his ancestry back 400 years through a long line of brilliant chiefs who led his tribe through many successful wars and for years resisted the Spanish invaders under Valdivia, the first white Governor of Chile. The name of his ancestor who led the tribe in this heroic struggle to retain the land of their forefathers against the white man is interwoven in the epic of Chile.

A Thrilling Plot

"You think I'll shoot? You know damned well I'll shoot!" These words, snapped out, shortly, sharply and decisively, came from the mouth of a woman. And the man knew that she meant what she said.

He was an officer of the Northwest Mounted. She was a young girl aiding her lover to escape the law and the penalty of taking a life.

This is one of the tense, breath-taking scenes in "David Belasco's Tiger Rose" which is to appear at the Castle theatre today and Friday. Would the officer risk the chance of a shot and capture his man? He knew that he was hidden somewhere in the house. He also knew that the girl, named "Tiger Rose," would shoot, and shoot to kill.

The entire picture is filled with scenes full of suspense, heart throbs and pathos, where your heart goes out to the poor, untutored girl, brought up in an environment of almost lawless freedom and absence of the usual restraints to the emotions that are raised around the existence of a community in the States.

This role is characterized by Lenore Ulric, the Belasco star, who made such a tremendous success in the same role when "Tiger Rose"

ran for two years on Broadway. Much realism and vividness was given to the original play in the screen version written by Edmund Goulding and Millard Webb.

Eleanor Boardman Starring

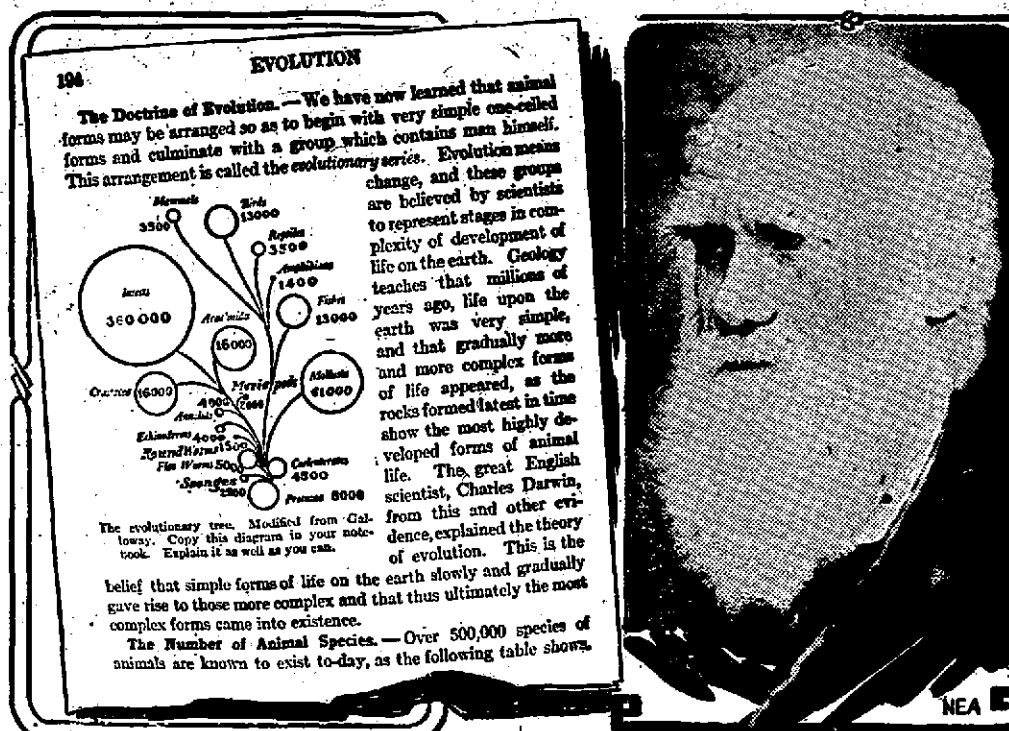

The those captions, cinematic eritics who are always decrying the lack of "intelligence" in pictures, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company might well say: "See 'Wife of the Centaur.'" This picturization of Cyril Hume's sensational novel opened last night at the Princess theatre, and proved itself to be one of the best offerings of the season.

The story—instead of a familiar plot—is based upon a serious theory; the theory being that every man is a "centaur," that he is half beast and half man; a battlefield in which the war of conflicting emotion is always being waged.

Hume's story has been transposed to the screen faithfully by King Vidor, and told with all that director's skill. Gilbert, in his new era of screen work, gives a finely drawn performance as Jeffrey. Eleanor Boardman, as the wife, is ideally cast, and Aileen Pringle, as the "other woman" has all the charm and attraction which made her so popular in "Three Weeks" and "His Hour."

Evansville—Evansville has lost its oldest soda fountain. Liggett Drug store has ordered a new fountain after fifteen years.

This Caused Scopes' Indictment

This is what started all the trouble. It is a page from George W. Hunter's "Civics Biology" text book, which John T. Scopes used in his classes at Dayton, Tenn., and for which he was indicted as a violator of the anti-evolution law. Accompanying is a picture of Charles Darwin.

INDIANA MAN ELECTED

SPOILING Thousands for other Cars

The Chrysler Six has brought about a startling and unique motor car situation in motor car ownership.

All over America are families which own two, three, four and even seven Chrysler cars.

There are two main reasons—but they both go straight back to the fact that it is a genuine delight to drive a Chrysler Six.

They go straight back to the fact that the Chrysler Six is an entirely new type of car, built on a new kind of engineering, which produces results radically different from any heretofore registered.

At one extreme are the families which can afford the most expensive chauffeur-driven cars.

Many of these have found a new joy in motor-ing. Men who have not driven their own cars for years are now driving their own Chryslers. They have discarded the heavy, cumbersome cars; or keep them only for occasional use.

For general use—the Chrysler Six. So great is the demand to drive this car on the part of both men and women in the same family, that two or three and even more Chrysler cars are found necessary.

The other side of the picture shows families which have owned a car costing perhaps twice as much as the Chrysler Six, and who have discarded it in the interests of economy and greater convenience.

Now they own and operate two Chrysler Six cars for the cost of one cumbersome car which does not begin to bring the driving and riding thrill ever present in the Chrysler Six.

You, too, will become a Chrysler enthusiast after your first thrilling, delightful ride and drive in a Chrysler Six—a ride we are eager and anxious to give you.

Typical Reasons Why Many Families Own Two or More Chrysler Cars

Mr. Edward C. Taubel, of Norristown, Pa., says: "The four cars we have purchased from you have been a revelation to us in easy handling, small amount of upkeep and general all around service. Having owned high priced cars for the past 15 years we feel we are giving you well deserved thanks for making us Chrysler owners."

E. W. Holmes, of Buffalo, New York, who owns two Chryslers, makes the significant statement:

"The Chrysler handles so well it discourages one from driving anything else."
